Project History

On February 11, 1980, the Wabash Valley Press Club Oral History Committee established the Vigo County Oral History Program in cooperation with the Vigo County Public Library. Members of the committee were William Pickett, chairman; Edward N. Howard, treasurer; Darlene Norman, coordinator; Harry Frey, Martin Plascak, Frances Hughes, and Shelton Hannig.

The George A. Foulkes Oral History Memorial Fund, already established, provided seed money for the committee to begin operation.

On March 15, 1980, a workshop was held on "Conducting the Oral History Interview." Tom King, Indiana University oral historian, was guest speaker and leader. Six days later, Ernestine Myers Morrissey was interviewed by Joyce Shanks—the first interview of the project.

In April 1980, Anita Wells and Jayne Lloyd were added to the Oral History Committee. The following January Jim Wright, incoming president of the Wabash Valley Press Club, became an active member of the committee.

As of July 1, 1980, the oral history project, "Terre Haute: Crossroads of the World," cosponsored by the Wabash Valley Press Club and the Vigo County Public Library, received a matching grant from the Indiana Committee for the Humanities.

The purpose of the project was to: 1) systematically collect historical documentation relevant to the period of 1900-1970; 2) promote a continuing interest in the history of Terre Haute as a basis for sound decisions about the future; 3) stimulate a sense of place and community; 4) investigate effect of changing transportation methods and patterns on the attitudes of residents toward their city, especially the downtown; and 5) perpetuate a growing interest in local history.

The total cost of the project was $55,886.00. That included $20,214 from the Indiana Committee for the Humanities, $1,500 gifts and matching money, and $34,172 in-kind contributions.

Finished products of the oral history project were: 54 taped interviews and transcripts, indexed and catalogued (94 hours 27 minutes on tape and 2,691 typed pages); a 28-minute TV videotape, "Terre Haute at the Crossroads"; slides of the local community; involvement of 23 interviewers; 4 seminars; 2 public programs; potential audience reached of 167,855 people; and records generated by the committee during the period of its existence.

Acknowledgements

Individual subject and name indexes were created for 52 oral history transcripts by Darlene Norman during the original project. In 2002, Vigo County Public Library archivist Susan Dehler created a Microsoft Access database to merge the 52 transcript indexes into one cohesive database. The original subject terms established by Darlene Norman were maintained for the most part. Joanne Spann, research assistant in Archives, input the index terms into the Microsoft Access database; Gayl Copping, Suzy Cristee, and Susan Dehler proofread data from the original indexes to assure accuracy.

Copyrights of the Oral History Transcripts and Index

The copyrights to the oral history interview tapes and transcripts and to the oral history transcripts index belong solely to the Vigo County Public Library as part of the original project agreement. Permission to reproduce or publish from the Vigo County Oral History Program transcripts must be obtained from the Community Archives, Vigo County Public Library.
